And that's not all...

All under one legendary roof

The beauty of Bistro Live is that you only need to book one place. You get a fun-filled night without having to move from bar to bar.

So... as the organiser, you only have to speak to one person to sort everything out. Your personal party planner will help you decide on the best package for you. They can even arrange discounted hotel stays!

To book – it couldn't be easier!

We can email through a payment link that's unique to your party. Using this, your party can pay us directly and each time someone does, you receive an email to confirm who has paid and how much they have paid. How easy is that?!

All we ask for initially is a £10.00 deposit per person. The rest of the balance will then be due 2 weeks before the night itself.

Worried about keeping on track with who's paid? We've got you covered! Your online account will tell you everything... Or we could give you a call or drop you a message if you prefer. We want to hear how your plans are coming along, of course!
